It is ideally located for those seeking to explore the natural parklands, sierras and also enjoy the coast which are all within less than an hours car journey.

This historic property has been reformed by its current owners whilst keeping original features to celebrate its heritage. Built into the hillside, the property is broadly arranged over 2 floors and briefly comprises of the following:-

Private driveway to the property with covered parking area. A shady patio leads to the BBQ area with bread oven repurposed as a BBQ. A door leads into the pretty country kitchen with vaulted beamed ceiling, traditional built-in shelving, fireplace and appliances. A separate door leads to the large covered terrace with plenty of space to dine outdoors and enjoy the countryside views. A door from this terrace leads to the first of 2 good sized double bedrooms with built-in storage and beautiful views through wooden shutter windows.

From the covered terrace you move to the extensive roof terrace offering the most incredible views over the valley, gardens, surrounding countryside and up towards the old castle ruins, a small part of which is within the properties grounds.

Steps lead down to the 2nd smaller covered terrace which is another place to enjoy the views in any weather! Both terraces on this side of the house face west and enjoy the most beautiful sunsets.

A door from this terrace leads into the good sized living room with feature wood-burning fireplace with exposed archway discovered during the renovation of the original house. The living room extends into what is currently used as a large office space but could also serve as a formal dining area if preferred. A door from the living room leads to the family bathroom with shower, basin and WC.

Stairs lead down to the 2nd double bedroom a door from which leads out to the side of the property into the gardens.

A third terrace is located to the rear of the kitchen and is currently used for storing firewood.
